

Charity, Cross or Creation?

Does God's love still have purchasing power in a time of climate change?

God's love that never ends, is becoming increasingly difficult as climate change directly harms the poor, threatens future generations and damages God's creation. Since climate related changes are taking place around the world, we invite participants to explore creation and justice in the context of climate change. We want to look at it from the perspective of scripture, tradition, reason and from your own experience in an attempt to assess the physical and spiritual implications of climate change.

You will receive more information – also about the text – shortly before the workshop.

Date

14th March 2023, 18.30 -21.00 CET

21st March 2023, 18.30 -21.00 CET

Information about workshop-leaders

Trevor Leonard Engel – Pastor; Pedagogue; Bibliodrama Facilitator; Drama-Therapy; Dramatic Arts Educator; Diploma in Theology; BA (Hons.) Religious Studies; MPhil. Ancient Cultures; National Teachers Diploma.

Volker Amrhein – Bibliodrama Facilitator; BA Theatre Pedagogy; M.A. Philosophy and Dramatics; Referee for Demographic Change and Intergenerational Relationship.

Sign-in to this workshop via Mail to

Trevor Engel: engel.bonn@web.de

Volker Amrhein: volamr89@gmail.com

Languages we will work in this workshop:

English/German

Extra information

The workshop includes two meetings via Zoom and a task for the days in between meetings. No prior knowledge of Bibliodrama is required. However, some knowledge of how to use Jamboard (a digital whiteboard) for online activities would be of advantage.

Number of Participants: 8-12